Dayspring Walk to Emmaus #85
Table of Hannah

I am so grateful for going on the Walk to Emmaus and for the opportunities to have served on several other walks, as well. Being surrounded by those seeking God on a daily basis and showing me how to live more for Jesus is truly a gift. My 4th Day has been a continuous journey to draw nearer to God and seek His will for my life. However, I still fall short and know that it is only by His mercy and grace that the precious gift of salvation is mine for eternity. As I continue to try to balance all the responsibilities of working, being a mother, family, community involvement, church, and so much more, I am constantly focusing on the schedule of the day and how I can make it all work. How quickly we get consumed with our "To Dos" and we forget that we have a risen Savior just waiting for us to seek Him to carry our burdens and direct our paths.

I love the song by Natalie Grant, "King of the World". The Chorus goes like this, "When did I forget that you've always been the king of the world? I try to take life back right out of the hands of the king of the world. How could I make you so small, when you're the one who holds it all. When did I forget that you've always been the kind of the world?" Giving God our fears, worries, and burdens is an act of Faith. It means that we trust God with the smallest details of the day to the biggest heartaches and fears that keep us up at night. How I wish I could always give things to God without ever taking them back and trying to handle them myself. For me, I've found that I have the greatest peace when I do turn things over to God and seek His Will for my life, rather than my own. For when we humble ourselves before God, it is then that we give Him the honor that He so deserves and it is then that He can truly work in our lives in life-changing ways. I pray for obedience to follow God more closely and to rely on His strength rather than my own. May we all put our faith and hope in the one that offers us unending love and everlasting life, the KING OF THE WORLD.

Decolores,

Ashley Hines Ellis
