People Who Bless
Dayspring Walk to Emmaus

There are people who are working behind the "scenes" everyday for the Dayspring Community. We are sometimes unaware of them or what they do. We are very thankful for these people

The first one is Ed Boulineau who is our Prayer Coordinator and is not new to this position. When someone has a prayer request or prayer request praise, Ed is the one to contact. He is the person who sends out the emails. If you need to contact him there are 2 ways in which to do this. One is to send it to dayspringwalktoemmaus@gmail.com or call 912-764-3744 for him to send the email out. We are so thankful for Ed and his willingness to be a Willing Servant!

The second one is Shawn Collins who is working with the Dayspring Walk to Emmaus website. The website gives information about the Community and also about the upcoming events. We appreciate Shawn working on this vital part of Community.

Humble yourselves, therefore under God's mighty hand, that He may lift you up in due time.

What has this weekend meant to me, and what am I going to do about it? That was the question that I had to answer nine years ago this past spring. Well at the time I really didn't know what that weekend had really meant, nor couldn't possibly predict what would wind up happening after I got home and unpacked my bags. When I went on my walk, I wasn't backsliding or complacent in my walk with Jesus, in fact I was fresh on my journey. I had just been saved a couple months before and my life was just starting to take shape. I was a newlywed with my whole life before me; house, kids, career, and dreams still to fulfill. Spiritually I was excited for what Jesus was doing in my life. I was still a long way from where I needed to be, but God was working on me. When I went on my walk, I didn't really know many people there and I didn't recognize a lot of familiar faces at the weekend events (that I won't disclose here) because there hadn't been a lot of people that I knew that had been thru the walk already (at least not that I was aware of). So I feel like maybe I didn't get the experience that some did or do when they go and are familiar enough to feel comfortable while on the walk. I have always been an introvert so the walk really challenged me to get outside my comfort zone and meet new people and speak in a group and even had opportunities to pray aloud which I had not really done much. I would however say that my walk, like all walks are for the pilgrims, was just what I needed. It really landed at a good time in my life and was a spring board for what God had already planned in my life. I have since understood that life is a lot like the Emmaus weekend, in that God is always behind the scenes working, to get you to a predetermined place. Along the way, equipping you and meeting your every need. Certainly a lot to do and always pressed for time, but plenty of breaks, snacks, and laughs along the way. I would never know and still don't fully comprehend what that weekend would come to mean to me. Family, friends, and many memories. God is still working on me and I'm still not where I need to be. But God has blessed me exceedingly abundantly above all that I could possibly ask or think.

If I was forced to answer those questions today: what has this weekend meant to you, and what am I going to do about it, I guess I would have to answer that "the impossible with God.

Luke 1:37*

weekend was not about me seeing Jesus, it was about me seeing Brad. The Brad that Jesus sees. And about Brad seeing the world the way Jesus sees. And that's what I'm going to do about it."
